

AgeWell Atlanta enables older adults in our community to “Age Well” through improved independence, quality of life, and social connection. Through our centralized platform, AgeWell Atlanta’s Senior Care Experts make the process easier and less stressful. Most importantly, our services lead to a happier, healthier, better life for those we love.

AgeWell Offerings

- AgeWell Atlanta acts as a beacon of support for seniors in Atlanta, offering a central information and referral line to connect them with vital services
- AgeWell Atlanta Neighborhoods Programs improve quality of life by combating social isolation among older adults and fostering meaningful connections with community resources, enriching their lives
- Senior Days at Marcus Jewish Community Center of Atlanta (MJCCA) provide a vibrant array of in-person activities tailored for older adults, including pickleball, book talks, cooking classes, painting sessions, exercise groups, and more, designed to engage and invigorate
- Caregiver Workshops empower caregivers with essential resources and tools, fortifying their ability to provide effective care for older adults, ensuring they can thrive

“I just wanted to take some time to express my thanks for all the extraordinary opportunities that keep seniors such as myself active! I am so grateful for the AgeWell Neighborhoods Programs and for your excellent customer service and patience. Thank you again for welcoming me to an incredible community of seniors and for providing amazing opportunities to enjoy!”

"We spoke yesterday, and I wanted to emphasize how thankful I am for your assistance... you expressed a genuine concern that I had not seen throughout this process. It has truly been the spark that I needed to continue my quest. So not only have you found a possible solution to a major piece of a problem that can mean life or death for my brother, but you have restored my faith that there are people who genuinely care. I write this with tears in my eyes to say, you are my hero and I am so thankful for you."
