INDIVIDUAL GRANT HIGHLIGHT

Josh and Jillian Friedensohn are a young couple with four kids who live in Peachtree Corners. They used Gather Grants to host a Shabbat program to meet more Jewish neighbors. They started small but their events have grown over the years. The Friedensohns now host epic Jewish events that attract 70 to 100 people. “We grill, bake, have a bounce house, and meet new people,” neighbors say. “Josh and Jillian brought our Peachtree Corners Jewish community together!”

ORGANIZATIONAL GRANT HIGHLIGHT

Little Hands can Do Big Things

This event brought our community’s youngest social activists together for an opportunity to answer Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. ’s challenge that we “do something for others.” The morning included song and movement, social action, service project stations and the chance to get a little messy too. Each eight partnering organizations had their own service project and learning station that is preschool-aged focused so our littlest hands will be able to complete the act of tikkun olam.
